LAUMED JOURNAL CLUB

Our Official Style Guide as at June 2020

All submissions are to be forwarded to Laumedjc@gmail.com

General Writing Style

 Please, always write in a clear and active style. Our preferred dictionaries are Merriam Webster Dictionary for general usage and Stedman's Medical Dictionary for medical terms.

 Always use the British English unless specified. Any other language will cancel submission.

* All entries for submission must be unpublished, not translated or adapted. The author must be the rightful owner of the text submitted.

* Works translated or adapted are not accepted, the author must be the owner of the text(s) submitted.

* Add a bio to submissions.

* Submissions should be prepared with single spacing.

 All submissions should be in Times New Roman with font size of 12.

Poetry guidelines

Send your unpublished poetry work between ten to forty lines. Generally, more consideration and attention is given to entries in line with our theme in a forthcoming issue.

Fiction guidelines

All submissions be at least 300 words and no more than 2000 words.

Non-Fiction guidelines

There is no set minimum length or maximum length.

Medical Review Articles/Original Articles

The title should be in the middle at the top of the first page. It should not be italicized or underlined.

Abstract of no more than two hundred words with at least three key words for original articles. Review articles may or may not have an abstract.

Manuscripts should be organized as follow:

Title

Name(s) of author(s)

Email of corresponding author

Complete correspondence address

Abstract

Keywords

Body

Reference

Name

Names should be arranged in this format – First Name, Middle Name (if any) and Last Name/Surname.

E.g. Tammy(First Name) Donald(Middle Name) Reuben(Last Name)

Abbreviation

Abbreviations take a full point, contractions don't: Mr; Dr; p.; the Hon. Boring but the Rt Hon. Boring. No. (as in number) takes a full point.

Initials and organizations, etc.

No full points, all caps—the UN, EU, NEPAD, UNHCR, ASEAN etc. If very well known, as for EU, NATO, OPEC, GATT, WTO, NGO, ICC, CIA, OECD, IMF, initials will do; if ignorance on part of reader is assumed, spell out the first time and use the acronym thereafter, e.g.: 'the Economic Commission for West African States (ECOWAS), the regional…'. Always use uppercase for acronyms, not Nato, Gatt, etc. If an organization appears only once, don't bother to give its acronym in parentheses, just use it in full. This applies particularly in book reviews.

Dates and Numerals:

6 January 2001; in footnotes save space by abbreviating months, e.g. The Times, 6 Jan. 2001: Jan. Feb. March April May June July Aug. Sept. Oct. Dec. On 20 March; on the 3rd (though avoid where possible);1990s (no apostrophe, and not 'the nineties');1946–7; 1900–1907, 2002–2003 (2002–03 fine in footnotes); 1999–2001 (use en-dash).

Elide except for teens and after a 0: 11–12, 60–61, 100–108, 107–27, 107–207, 200–201 (use en- dashes. The rule is to use the fewest possible digits compatible with clarity);13 per cent in text, but 13% in tables and footnotes.

Spell out numbers from one to twelve, figures thereafter. Ditto for ordinals, except for names of centuries on aesthetic grounds, e.g. sixteenth, nineteenth century (but nineteenth-century if adjective). You may sometimes want to spell out high round numbers if they occur in a literary, as opposed to a statistical context; - Spell out units of measurement (kilometres, kilograms etc.) in text.

Commas in thousands: 3,569. - Hyphenate adjectival measurements: an 18,000-tonne ship CE/BCE or AD/BC according to author, but always small caps.

Quotations

Double quotations should be used at all times unless there is a quote within a quote then a single quotation can be used.

Capitalization

First letter of the names of people, places and organisations should be capitalized. Words should never be capitalized for emphasis. Abbreviations must also be capitalized if indicated.

Vernacular

Other languages besides English should be italicized when in use. Translation should be made in references if not in the body of work. For example, Gracias.

Abstract

An abstract must accompany every original research work. No exceptions.

Bio(In Third Person)

A short biography of the author should be provided with every published work. If an executive, position must be state in bio. Bio must be written in the third person and must not exceed 100 words at most. A photograph must be provided to go along with the bio as well.

References

We follow the APA Referencing Guide.

All publications cited in the text should be presented in a list of references following the text of the manuscript. The manuscript should be carefully checked to ensure that the spelling of author's names and dates are exactly the same in the text as in the reference list.

In the text refer to the author's name (without initial) and year of publication, followed if necessary by a short reference to appropriate pages. Examples: "Since Peterson (1988) has shown that..." "This is in agreement with results obtained later (Kramer, 1989, pp. 12-16)".

If reference is made in the text to a publication written by more than two authors the name of the first author should be used followed by "et al.". This indication, however, should never be used in the list of references. In this list names of first author and co-authors should be mentioned.

References cited together in the text should be arranged chronologically. The list of references should be arranged alphabetically on authors' names, and chronologically per author. If an author's name in the list is also mentioned with co-authors the following order should be used: publications of the single author, arranged according to publication dates - publications of the same author with one co-author - publications of the author with more than one co-author. Publications by the same author(s) in the same year should be listed as 1994a, 1994b, etc.

Use the following system for arranging your references:
a. For periodicals
Sauter, R,W., Williams, C., Meyer, E.A., Celnik, B.,Banks,J.L., Leith D.A., (1987). A study of bacteria present within unfertilized salmon eggs at the time of spawning and their possible

relation to early lifestage disease,Journal of Fish Diseases,10(3): 193-203. doi:10.1111/j.1365-2761.1987.tb01061.x

b. For edited symposia, special issues, etc. published in a periodical Roberts, R.J., (1993). Ulcerative dermal necrosis (UDN) in wild salmonids. In: Bruno, D.W. (Ed.), Pathological conditions of wild salmonids, Fisheries Research, 17(2): 3-14.

c. For books
Gaugh, Jr., H.G., (1992). Statistical Analysis of Regional Yield Trials. Elsevier, Amsterdam.

d. For multi-author books
Bucke, D., (1989). Histology. In: Austin, B., Austin, D.A. (Eds.), Methods for the Microbiological Examination of Fish and Shellfish. Wiley, New York, pp. 69-97.

Footnotes

Footnotes should be used only if absolutely essential. In most cases it should be possible to incorporate the information in normal text.

If used, they should be numbered in the text, indicated by superscript numbers, and kept as short as possible.

Copyright

An author, when quoting from someone else's work or when considering reproducing an illustration or table from a book or journal article, should make sure that he is not infringing a copyright.

Although in general an author may quote from other published works, he should obtain permission from the holder of the copyright if he wishes to make substantial extracts or to reproduce tables, plates, or other illustrations. If the copyright-holder is not the author of the quoted or reproduced material, it is recommended that the permission of the author should also be sought.

Material in unpublished letters and manuscripts is also protected and must not be published unless permission has been obtained.

A suitable acknowledgement of any borrowed material must always be made.
